STRENGTHEN YOUR NETWORK WITH A LOCAL CHAPTER

As part of your ASCM membership, you have the opportunity to be part of a local APICS Chapter. Participation with a local chapter enables you to pursue leadership opportunities that expand your skill sets, enhance career growth and increase your marketability.

APICS chapters offer a variety of services in communities throughout North America, including:

- Instructor-led certification review classes that help prepare candidates for testing
- On-site training for organizations interested in educating a group of employees
- Certification study groups and North American group testing opportunities
- Seminars and workshops specific to a particular geographic area and/or industry
- Facility tours that provide insight into organizational principles and practices
- Workshops and meetings with allied organizations that enable members to network
- Professional development meetings that foster local networking and career development
- Opportunities to earn maintenance points towards your certification

3 easy ways to select a chapter:

- 1 Choose a local chapter when you register for membership.
- 2 Visit APICS.org/partners/find-a-partner to view chapters near you.*
- 3 Contact ASCM Customer Relations to transfer you into the chapter of your choice or assist you in finding the right chapter.

Please note there are some areas where a local chapter may not be available.*
