Advancing Innovation & Navigating Global Trends

APICS Fall Executive Panel & Networking Symposium

November 3, 2018 | Harvey Mudd College | Claremont, CA

Innovation is key to responding to expanding market demands, unarticulated needs and ever-present progress. Discovering better solutions can reduce costs, improve the bottom line and support growth. The supply chain is global. It is perpetually evolving and thrives on new ideas that lead to innovation.

Join the APICS Inland Empire Fall 2018 Symposium on November 3, 2018 to learn from our Expert Panel as they discuss innovations that have changed their organizations and how the Global Supply Chain is responding. More importantly, learn what happens to growth, scale and profits when innovation meets the Global Supply Chain.
